Meagan Whiddon, a third-year welding student at Greene County Vocational Technical Center, is being honored by the Mississippi Construction Education Foundation as student of the month for the state's southern region.

Touting a perfect grade point average, Whiddon is a member of the FFA welding team that captured top honors in the 2016 state competition. She is active in SkillsUSA, for which she serves as secretary for both the state and local chapters, and West Salem Baptist Church.

After graduation, Whiddon will attend William Carey College with plans to become a math or history teacher.
