

Student of the Month – January 2016
South Area

Zain Statham, Welding II
Dennis W. Fortenberry Career Center

Instructor's Name: Henry Kelly
Current GPA: 3.0
Attendance: Excellent

Zain, an eleventh grader, is a second year welding student. He was honored as CTE student of the month, for the Welding program multiple times. Zain often utilizes his leadership skills in the program by demonstrating technical skills and providing advice to his peers. He possess a positive, collaborative attitude among faculty and students.

After touring Northrop Grumman last year and meeting with management, Zain plans to apply for a position in the Haley Barbour Training Academy. He is an active member of SkillsUSA and competed in welding fabrication last year. He plans on returning to competition this spring.

Zain holds down a part time job working with a local landscape contractor. After graduation, Zain hopes to obtain a CTE Scholarship to attend Pearl River Community College and complete a degree in Welding.